

Lesson Seventeen — Review

Day One — Lessons Three and Four

Day Two — Lessons Five and Six

Day Three — Lessons Eight through Ten

Day Four — Lessons Eleven through Thirteen

Day Five — Lessons Fourteen through Sixteen

We have come a long way in the past 16 weeks. I hope you have enjoyed getting into God's Word. I also hope you have learned many things which will help you in future studies! This week we will be reviewing most of the lessons which we have completed. Please give yourself time to do thorough reviews each day. Review is one of the best ways to retain what you have learned.

Let's get started!

Day One — Review Lessons Three and Four

Today we will review the purpose of man's creation and the present rulership over the earth. Just read (or skim) through each day's homework and in the space provided jot down things that you have learned or that strike you. The purpose of this week's homework is just to remind you of what we have studied. Therefore, you do not have to write out a lot of detail (unless you want to); just getting things written down in the way of review will help you retain what you have learned. Then be ready to share some of these things when you come to class.

Day Two — Review Lessons Five and Six

Today we will review the call of Abraham and purpose of Israel having been chosen by God. Do the same type of review in these lessons as you did in yesterday's lessons.

Day Three — Review Lessons Eight through Ten

Today we will review the first coming of Christ, the kingdom of the heavens, and the institution of the Church. Study well.

Day Four — Review Lessons Eleven through Thirteen

Today we will review the Book of Acts, salvation, and how works and rewards fit into the picture.

Day Five — Review Lessons Fourteen through Sixteen

For our final day of study we will review the world to come, Hebrews chapter eleven, and the judgment seat of Christ. Study well, and I will see you in class!
